

KENYON L. WILLIAMS
Associate Director
U.S. Army Technical Center for Explosives Safety

Mr. Kenyon L. Williams is Associate Director of the U.S. Army Technical Center for Explosives Safety at the Defense Ammunition Center in McAlester, OK. Mr. Williams has a Bachelors of Science degree in Industrial Engineering from Iowa State University, a Masters of Engineering in Industrial Engineering (w/Safety Option) from Texas A&M University, and is a graduate of the U.S. Army Materiel Command (AMC) Safety Engineering Intern Program. Mr. Williams started his civil service career in the AMC Safety Engineer Intern program and has 35 years of experience working in the U.S. Army Safety Program, holding safety-engineering positions at Tooele Army Depot, Lone Star Army Ammunition Plant, AMC Intern Training Center, two tours at the Kwajalein Missile Range, and currently at the U.S. Army Technical Center for Explosives Safety.

